

Witness in Jerusalem, Judea and Samaria

When the first century historian and doctor Luke wrote of Jesus, he did so after researching many eyewitness and written sources. He compiled an accurate and orderly account not only of the earthly Jesus of Nazareth in a first volume but also of the resurrected Lord Jesus who through his apostles carried the proclamation of God's forgiveness, life and glory from Jerusalem to Rome in a second.

The second volume is the text for the Bible Talks this third term of 2018. We will follow the apostles and deacons as they preached Jesus, organised the new community of Christians and faced the hostility of the Jerusalem leadership. This Acts of the Apostles reveals the message they preached, the courage they showed and the frustrations they faced from internal disputes and external hostility.
