

Jesus: Good News approaching Jerusalem

After supernatural circumstances surrounding his birth and after extraordinary healings, casting out of demons and even raising people from death, Jesus set his face determinedly toward Jerusalem. Crowds accompanied him and his disciples.

His teaching grew in popularity and his followers grew in number. However hostility from Israel's religious leaders also grew. Jesus began to take more deliberate steps to train his disciple for the time when he would not be with them. He revealed more about his eternal Kingdom and about his coming death and subsequent resurrection. He urged his disciples to pursue the eternal more than the immediate as his ministry came to a climax in Jerusalem. We will travel this journey with Dr Luke's guidance in the first term of 2018.
